

Holophon is a German record label with its headquarters in Berlin, the corporate management is based in Vienna.

The main focus is set in new releases, corporate music, sound consulting, public relation and digital distribution.

The Holophon label is not only position itself in the downbeat territory but is surprising with diverse productions from various genres.

Having started out as a pure record label, we faced the challenges of the digital era and the resulting changes in music business. Cooperations with projects like www.1point618.com as well as extended services online at www.distrimusic.net exemplify the new paths of Holophon.